Sin & I: Part 1 of Mystical Cruciformity

Tommy Miller, Legacy Church

SUMMARY

“When we regard the cross of Jesus Christ, we need to regard it in the way that the Father and the Son regarded it, which was the end to sin, the end to separation and the end of delusion. You were conformed. If we regard His sufferings as our own, we'll also live with Him. We've been mystically cruciformed to the image of the death, burial and resurrection of Jesus Christ.”

ICE BREAKER

What's the most meaningful symbol or piece of jewelry you own and why is it significant to you?

KEY VERSES

- Romans 6:6-7, 20-23
- Daniel 9:24
- Romans 7:9-11

QUESTIONS/SEEDS FOR DISCUSSION

- What does it mean that you and “sin” are separate?
- What's the difference between a sacrificial lamb and a Passover lamb?
- What's the difference between deconstruction from a place of hurt versus deconstruction to pursue truth?
- What does it mean to “regard Christ's sufferings as your own”?
- What practical difference does it make in your daily life to believe you are already like God versus trying to become like God?

SEEDS FOR DISCUSSION

- The cross was not about God needing to kill something to appease His wrath, but about including humanity in Christ's death to end distorted form and perceived separation.
- Sin is not who we are or our behaviors (transgressions), but a distorted form of identity that Christ put to death.

Sin & I: Part 1 of Mystical Cruciformity

Tommy Miller, Legacy Church

- We don't need to suffer to be like Christ — we need to recognize that His death was our death; His resurrection was our resurrection.
- Christianity is not about behavior modification but about living from our true identity in Christ.
- The law and religion produce death; accepting our identity as Sons of God produces life.
